

Lisa Wathne, Senior Strategist, Captive Wildlife, the Humane Society of the United States, began her career at the Progressive Animal Welfare Society in Washington state where, among other campaigns, she worked to secure the relocation of Ivan the gorilla from a department store to Zoo Atlanta. For nearly three decades her work has focused on the plight of captive wild animals, with an emphasis on legislation and policy for the past ten years at the HSUS.