

1. Do you think personal change makes a difference or do you think change has to come from industry and/or government? Why?
2. Does your opinion change when talking about animals versus the environment? Why?
3. Why do you think environmental organizations aren't paying attention to animal agriculture when they know it is the leading cause of emissions and how do you think that can change?
4. Given what you heard about fishing, do you think there needs to be stricter regulations on the word "Sustainable" or other animal product labeling? Why?
5. Do you think tackling the issues of animal agriculture would be more successful on a domestic or global scale? Why?