

1. Do you think there is such thing as sustainable fishing? Why or why not? If not, do you think there needs to be stricter regulations on the word “sustainable” or “dolphin safe” when it comes to animal products?
2. Do you think it is up to consumer, the government, industry, or all of the above to limit the use of plastic? Why?
 - a. If you chose consumers, what are some ways you limit plastic use?
 - b. If you chose government and/or industry, what laws or regulations do you think would be helpful to limit plastic production or use?
3. What are some ways people in the United States can help to reduce the aquatic animal harm happening in oceans around the world?
4. Trillions of fish are killed each year for food, which is more than farmed land animals. Why do you think aquatic animals aren’t talked about as much even though they are being killed at higher rates? How do we change that?
